Dunlap to Teach Radio Course Here

Arrangements have been completed with radio station WLIZ enabling University instruction in radio broadcasting beginning in the spring. All classes and workshops will be held in the WLIZ studio where excellent facilities for instruction and production are available.

Radio 101 will include the basic phases of radio station operation: programming, engineering, sales, business, and executive departments, with consideration given to preparation for broadcasts: studio personnel, radio practices, languages, and signals; type of broadcasts: drama, music, interviews, round table discussion, remote broadcast, and audience participation. A class will be organized to air a weekly show over WLIZ, an all-student production under the supervision of the instructor. The lab course also will provide opportunities for practicing earlier acquired skills, such as acting, writing, etc.

An advanced course, writing for radio, will begin in the fall.

Dunlap to Teach

Instructor will be Wallace Dunlap, program director of WLIZ, who has been engaged in professional broadcasting since 1938. Mr. Dunlap attended Tulane University and Harvard Graduate School and is a former reporter, producer of Army radio activities, trainer of personnel for three radio stations, producer at WOR, New York, winner of the third national prize from Billboard magazine for creation and production of an original radio program, and author of dramatic scripts and radio magazine articles.

Meet at Studio

The course will be conducted at WLIZ in a two-hour classroom session Tuesday nights and a four-hour laboratory session Thursday nights involving the preparation of the weekly radio show. Four semester hours credit will be given. The class enrollment limited to twenty-five with day division students being given a majority of the class places. Applications, which may be secured from

Harry Goldman, UB Student, Opens "Clair's Candy Store"

"Nuts to you and the best of candy too," says Harry Goldman, UB junior who has recently opened "Clair's Candy Store" at 866 Madison Ave. where he sells candy, nuts, and small gifts. He operates the store with the aid of his wife, Clair, who takes charge while Harry is busy studying for a future career in industrial management.

Snow Royalty to be Crowned

The first co-sponsored Fraternity-Sorority affair in the history of the University of Bridgeport will be held Friday evening, January 28, 1949 at Champs Shorehouse.

Delta Epsilon Beta Fraternity and Theta Epsilon Sorority, the sponsors, have been planning the Snowball Dance since December.

The highlight of the evening will come when the most handsome couple are chosen as the Snowball King and Queen and the Royal Pair will reign supreme for the rest of the evening.

Heading the joint planning committees for the dance are Joe Kazal of Delta Epsilon Beta fraternity and Jackie Keefe of Theta Epsilon Sorority.

Other features of the Snowball Dance are the floor shows, door prize and the booster book and program. Tickets may be obtained from any member of Delta Epsilon Beta fraternity or Theta Epsilon Sorority.

"Video Beauties"

Gerry Wilkins, right, UB student, was runner-up in the television "Cover Girl" contest conducted last week by The Bridgeport Post-Telegram and the NBC Television Network. The winner, Dolly Huston, vocalist with Ronny Rommel's orchestra, made her television debut on the NBC network last Saturday night on the "Television Screen Magazine" show. Nine contestants participated in the final auditions conducted in the WLIZ radio station studios.

Sweetheart Nominations Scheduled For This Week

Nomination blanks for the University's traditional Sweetheart election are being circulated to all students this week. The completed blanks are to be returned to the Sweetheart Committee by mail or via the boxes provided in the Snackbars.

Tom Walsh, chairman of the Sweetheart Committee, has urged that all nominations be returned as early as possible in order to not delay the election, the date of which will be announced later.

Dance On Feb. 12

The girl elected University Sweetheart will be crowned at the annual Sweetheart Dance on Feb. 12 in the Stratfield hotel.

Named to the Sweetheart Dance Committee by the Social Activities Committee were Jayne Gilmore and Chris Parris, co-chairmen; Tom Walsh, Dot Luperiello, Joan Hart and Ray Rice, in charge of the election; Fay Rice and Tom Walsh, publicity; Ben Snow, tickets;

Offer New Courses In Evening School

Mr. Harry A. Kendall, director of the Evening Division, announced recently a list of new courses to be offered in the Evening School for the Spring semester. It will be the first time that these courses have been offered in the Evening College.

The courses include Accounting for Engineers to be offered on Tues. and Thurs. evenings, period 12; Advanced Tool Design, Mon. evening, periods 12, and 13; Accounting Systems, Mon. and Wed., period 13; Statistics and Applied Economics, Tues. and Thurs., period 13; Methods Time Measurement, Tues. and Thurs., period 13; Race Relations, Tues. and Thurs., period 13; and Community Resources, Monday evening, periods 13, and 14a.

The course in Race Relations will be conducted by Dr. Abraham Knepler, and will coordinate the classroom work with the Second Annual Race Relations Institute which will be held on the Fones Campus.

Elwood Street to Teach

The course in Community Resources will be directed by Mr. Elwood Street, Executive Secretary of the Community Chest Council for Bridgeport and Stratford. Mr. Street has had wide experience as an active worker in social service and also as a lecturer and teacher.

Another course of interest is Statistical Quality Control which will be given in cooperation with the Southern Connecticut Society of Quality Control Engineers.

Hobby Courses

Non-credit courses which will be offered during the Spring semester, for those interested in hobbies are Interior Decorating on Monday evenings from 8:00 to 9:30 P.M.; Sculpturing, Tuesday evening from 7:00 to 10:00 P.M.; Music Appreciation, Wednesday evening from 6:30 to 8:00 P.M.; and the Techniques of Reading, also on Wednesday evening from 7:00 to 9:00 P.M.

Referendum On Student Activity Tickets to be Held Early Next Month

Heeding a warning issued by President James Halsey to "go easy" on the proposed student referendum for ratification of the student activity ticket plan, the Student Council unofficially announced today that it would postpone the referendum until the middle of next month. Members of the Council had previously expressed the hope that the issue could be solved before the close of this semester.

UB Prepares For "Mock" Legislature

Plans swung into high gear this week for the annual Intercollegiate Student Legislature to be held at Hartford, March 18-19, with the announcement by Mr. Elmer Weber, faculty adviser, of the names of those who would constitute this year's Legislature Committee.

Committee Named

Named to serve on the committee are Bill Belury, Reigh Carpenter, James H. Gaffney, William Giles, Edna Hindie, Robert Gleason, John Karlac, Anthony Pellegrino, Benjamin Raubvogel, Julian Short, Isidore Pomper, Jacqueline Keefe, and Thomas McGannon. Four others will be named later on next week by the board of selection.

Began Last April

The Connecticut Intercollegiate Student Legislature was the idea of Edwin Stevens of Teachers College of Connecticut who, together with Mrs. Edna Edgerton, former representative from Stamford, and Mr. Searles Dearington, Clerk of the House of Representatives, arranged the first session of the legislature held last April at the Capitol Building, Hartford. Fifteen colleges and universities participated in this initial effort with more than 250 students taking part in its activities.

Dual Aims

The aims of the legislature are twofold: to stimulate among college students a further interest in politics; and to offer the experience necessary for a practical understanding of the political give-and-take of a representative body in debates concerning contemporary state affairs.

Each participating college and university sends 15 representatives and 2 senators to the Capital to the sessions of the legislature. Bills prepared by the delegates are presented for Actual voting on this very controversial issue, which in effect will increase the individual student's tuition by $15, will now probably take place during Student Government Week to be held early next semester. It is during this week, held once each academic year, that the councilmen must report to the student body in person at a mass assembly held in the Klein. Detailed discussion and demonstrations pertaining to the student activity passes will be held during this assembly, a spokesman for the council said.

Need Majority to Pass

Should 1000 or more students of the freshman, sophomore and junior classes vote in favor of the coupon books, the Council will request that the Board of Trustees study the plan in detail and to adopt it as a means of providing more and better student activities for less money from the individual student. If considerably less than that number vote in the affirmative, the issue will be dropped.

Student leaders are confident, however, that the needed vote can be obtained, and they also express confidence that the Trustees will likewise approve the plan when it is presented to them.

Officials Interested

Both President Halsey and Vice-President Littlefield have shown great interest in this method of subsidizing student activities. Both, however, urge that extreme caution and considerable thought be exercised by all those who will be affected by the increase in tuition before they vote at the referendum.

Exact details of the coupon book system were being ironed out in a Student Council meeting as the Scribe went to press late yesterday afternoon.

The tentative plan adopted at the Dec. 6 meeting of the Council provides for a book of coupons which

Teacher, Student Rights Will Be Studied By UB

On his return from a meeting of the national executive committee of the National Student Association at Chicago, Dec. 27-30, Chris Parris, chairman of the Southern New England Region of the NSA, announced that UB has been designated to carry out a study of academic freedom and student rights in this area.

Chris, who served on the subcommittee for the study of academic freedom and student rights at the Chicago meeting, revealed that the group will be called the Area Committee on Human Relations.

Promote Understanding

It is anticipated that the survey will be handled by the Campus Commission, which at present consists of five members: Dave Zimmer, Fred Cicalo, Dan Greaney, Ev Matson, and Leroy Lehman.

The group will undertake, with the aid of local organizations such as the YMCA, Inter-Group Council, and the Jewish Community Centers, and with the assistance of UB students and professors, to discover means of promoting better understanding between students and faculty and between these groups and school administrations, as well as methods whereby human-relations in general may be improved. Other universities in the region will be asked to conduct similar surveys in their own areas, and the data submitted by them will be correlated at UB.

Periodic reports of the progress of the findings will be made to both the regional and the national organizations. Students in each region will be made aware of the findings of their area committee as soon as the findings of the individual groups are established.

Incidentally Speaking. . .

By JAMES DLUGOS

We Hate to Lose You, Ray

Business managers come and go. No one takes much notice of them or of what they do. They are forgotten men of the college newspapers.

Ray Folkman, who will resign as the SCRIBE business manager upon his withdrawal from day school this month, is no exception. His name will be forgotten before his successor's name is put into the masthead. Forgotten, that is by all except those who have worked with him on the Scribe since he joined us as business manager in October, 1947.

We'll never forget Ray, for it is he who was actually the "father of the weekly Scribes." You know, it takes much more to publish each issue than the $140 that the Student Activities Fund allocates for that purpose. It takes closer to $240. The difference? Ads, large and small are what makes it up. And it's been Ray who has been bringing them in week after week almost single handedly. Yes, he's been "the papa, who pays the bills" to all of us.

That's why the entire staff joins me in wishing him success in his new endeavors, whatever they may be, and hope that he'll have an opportunity soon to do as much for his new business associates as he has done for us here on the Scribe.

Grading Time For All

Faculty evaluation sheets have again been prepared by the University and distributed to the faculty with the recommendation that students in every class be given a chance to complete them.

The instructor striving for self-improvement, as every intelligent individual is constantly doing, will certainly employ every possible means at his disposal to determine his progress toward becoming a better instructor. Hence, he will welcome the opportunity to determine how the students he is instructing are reacting to his instructions. Are they learning? Does the course have a meaning for them? Are they getting anything from it? Would they recommend their buddies to enroll in your classes?

The instructor who receives positive answers to these vital questions will find that he is succeeding in fulfilling his main responsibility here at the university—that of imparting the knowledge he has acquired throughout his lifetime to those who came here to receive it.

Should negative answers be returned, the instructor should be glad that at last he has had his inadequacies pointed out,—and thank his students for the chance they have given him to mend his way before he loses it . . . completely.

Letters to the Editor . . .

Letters to the Editor are encouraged by the staff as an outlet for opinions of students and interested individuals regarding all phases of the students' program of activities here at UB. Letters must bear the author's signature, but if the writer so desires his name will be withheld from publication.

COME ON!

To the Editor of the Scribe:

I have a gripe that I no doubt share with numerous other students. Though a junior in college, I have been suffering under the delusion that for each hour of classwork there are only two hours of homework required. This requirement I feel, as most students do, is entirely within reason and in most instances, where it is strictly adhered to, it returns a better than average grade. But this is not so with every class and one in particular—History 48F, better known as Current Events.

History 48F is a one-hour-a-week course. For homework in this class, the student is required to read each day either the N.Y. Herald-Tribune or the N.Y. Times and each week either the Time or Newsweek magazine. With this background, the student goes to class each week and is quizzed on what has happened in the world of news. To be able to inform himself well enough to maintain a better than average grade, the above mentioned publications must be thoroughly scrutinized regularly, with this point lies my gripe. I defy the History Department to bring forth an average student who can read one of each of the publications regularly during the course of a week without using at least three or four hours and still maintain a better than average grade. I don't believe it can be done.

A STUDENT

An Idea Is Presented

To the Editor of the SCRIBE:

We find the present system of student evaluation of faculty inadequate and unsatisfactory. We propose to set up a new evaluation system, whereby constructive criticisms will be offered to those faculty members seeking that information; which in turn will benefit the student.

We need the complete cooperation of the student body to help make this program a success. By your cooperation, we mean honest, sincere, and straight forward evaluation of the faculty member.

These evaluation sheets, when made available, are to be used at the discretion of the faculty member for his own personal use.

A joint committee of student and faculty members are meeting Wednesday, Jan. 12, to lay the ground work and to clarify differences.

Be on the lookout for further information of student evaluation of faculty. If you have any suggestions or opinions, this committee will greatly appreciate them. Send them in to the Student Evaluation Committee to the SCRIBE.

FONEYVILLE FOLLIES

Bob Donaldson

Well, fellow students, 1948 has passed into oblivion and 1949 hath cometh... Many of our students have been given the word by the University Warden that they will be paroled from the confines of good old UB this year for good behavior... the popular name for these future parolees is "Seniors" and 1949 looks mighty good to them...

Gerry Wilkins, talented co-ed of "Campus Thunder" fame won second place in a recent television contest held in this city... She will be heading for the big city shortly for a try-out... Good luck, Gerry, from all of us.

Theta Sigma fraternity and Beta Gamma sorority gave Christmas parties for the Crippled Children's Workshop and the Orphan's Home respectively... Versatile Stu Baker played Santa Claus at both parties... He played the part superbly until a smart little tyke grabbed him by the beard and asked, "Didn't I see you in 'Campus Thunder'?"

Russ Gordon's one and only looked into her stocking this Christmas and found a BE-UTIFUL engagement ring... Russ says that if she treats him right, he's going to put a diamond in it.

Low Lane followed the way of all flesh and gave a diamond to his bride-to-be over the holidays... Lew claims he owes it all to his little Jeep.

The Holidays found Ray Clarke and Key DeWitt basking in the Florida sunshine... We can just see our boy dashing down the gleaming sands and casting his bronzed body into the pounding surf.

Charlie O'Connor took the fatal step last Saturday as the Snack Bar Commandos took a long last look at one of their charter members... Congratulations, old man.

Everybody's doing it... Nels Parker strapped on his ball and chain by giving a rock to Patricia Castell... From where we sit that kind of strapping is mighty fine.

Gail Moshier has received a solitaire from Steve Dunbar and they look like a cinch for a swell future.

Julius Sonick also pulled a quickie when he became engaged to Joanne Berman... There must be something to it to convince so many of our used-to-be bachelors.

The Theta Sigma New Year's party was a rousing success in spite of the tough breaks with which it was confronted in the form of bad weather, missing orchestra, and general confusion...

High-lights of the evening.... Jo Mercurio became proud possessor of Johnny Cox's cherished fraternity pin... New Years was celebrated ten minutes too prematurely and had to be celebrated all over again at the stroke of mid-night.... Jackie Keefe's black net dress was enough to break many a good New Year's resolution....

Otto Kleppner's lesson No. 1 in Semantics... Quote: "When a girl says you are going too far, she really means you are coming too close."

Happy New Semester to all students burdened with the "Finals Blues." BD

UB Prepares

discussion by the group. The Speaker of the House, the President of the Senate, Majority and Minority leaders, and the Clerks of both houses are elected at this time. Eight working committees composed of from 4 to 5 senators and a representative from each school are set up to review the bills.

An Executive Council, composed of two representatives and one faculty member from each college, functions as a planning board to outline procedures between legislative sessions. The council in turn elects an executive committee who make necessary arrangements and deal with many problems arising between meetings of the council. Serving on the council from the University are Mr. Elmer Weber, Benjamin Raubvogel, and Julian Short, who was elected Rules Director of the Executive Committee.

UB's Bills

Some of the bills to be presented by the University's delegation this year include: a stronger Fair Employment Practices Law; the reorganization of congressional districts; a six-week teacher training course for elementary and secondary school teachers to be required every 3 years; the setting up of a judiciary appointment committee and referendum so as to take that branch of the government further away from politics; and the outlawing of capital punishment.

Pros and Cons On Coupons

By EV MATSON

Do we want student activity coupon books?

The Student Council has pondered this question for many weeks. They have constantly revised its structure, met with administration officials, and in the end, come up with a proposed program which they believe will be most beneficial to the students. As an unbiased medium, they can do no more. Now the final decision lies with the student body.

The activity book is composed of numbered coupons and as each college event comes along, a certain coupon will be designated for admittance. No additional fees will be required. There will be enough coupons in the book to cover all sports, social, dramatic, and miscellaneous activities.

Tuition Will be Upped

At present, the University draws $15 out of your tuition and puts it into a special student activity fund. The total (about $27,000) is then redistributed by the Student Council to all student activities to help defray their operating costs. Consequently, all activities are brought to you at reduced cost.

The new system proposed by the Student Council would raise the tuition 15 dollars. In return for this increase the student would receive a coupon book which would admit him to all regularly scheduled college activities. If the system were adopted and made compulsory, veteran's expenses would be absorbed by the Veteran's administration.

While the system has its merits it also has some fallacies. The administration has put forth the following arguments against the plan.

(1) It is not the policy of the University to have Uncle Sam pay for any added costs that are incurred through college functions. (2) The Board of Trustees opposes any increase of total tuition costs to students. (3) The program is "taxation without representation". It forces students to attend all activities regardless of their interests. (4) The present list of activities to be covered by the booklet will not cover all student interests. (5) Whether an activity is good or bad, all must support it. The merit of the activity can not be rightly determined. (6) Many veterans have just enough eligibility to finish college. Any increases charged to them now may mean a larger expense on their part later.

Student Arguments

The special student committee has made the following arguments in favor of the system.

(1) It would eliminate standing in line two and three times a month to obtain tickets. (2) Many colleges throughout the country already use this type of fund. (3) Even though a person may not like some of the activities, there is enough diversification of interests for him to "get his money's worth". (4) There are extra coupons in the booklet to provide for any new activities that might arise. (5) The veteran has his own choice, he can personally pay for the increase or can have his eligibility charged. (6) Even though a person does not attend all the activities, he still would save by this system. Paying for each event individually would cost a person AT LEAST one and a half times more than the booklet would cost.

Students to Decide

The facts here outlined are presented with the hope that students will give the matter their serious consideration. More details will be found in a brochure which the Student Council plans to put out.

To be accepted the coupon book policy must be approved by a 2/3 student referendum vote. Remember, this system affects every single one of you. Your vote is your voice . . . it is your duty to speak.

UB Students Pick Comic Favorites

Lil' Abner and the Shmoo rate tops in the first opinion poll on the comics conducted by University journalism students in cooperation with the circulation department of the Bridgeport Post. Honors were shared by Dixie Dugan, who also polled 90% readers in the survey.

Mr. Harold Bishop of the Post, who is conducting the survey in all age groups, including adults, and Mr. Howard B. Jacobson, instructor in journalism, supervised the poll of art and economics students. The group surveyed included members of all four classes with a predominance of males.

Results of the poll revealed the popularity in the following order: Lil' Abner, Dixie Dugan, Nancy, Sad Sack, Donald Duck, Joe Palooka, Steve Canyon, Terry and the Pirates, Grin and Bear It, Mickey Finn, Believe It or Not, Henry, AP Comics, Rex Morgan, Invisible Scarlett O'Neill, Gasoline Alley.

Referendum

would be sold to each student at registration for $15. The purchase price of the book would be in addition to the tuition charges of the University, and would be payable by the government for veteran students if they so desired.

Pay Once For All

The coupons issued would admit the bearer to all of the regularly scheduled student activities throughout the school without any additional charges. Varsity sports, all college dances and productions, and the University year-book would thus become free of charge for all day students.

Council members reported that this plan would save the average student about $15 a year because it costs him nearly $30 to participate in or attend the numerous student activities under the present set-up.

The Council emphasized that the income from the sale of these activity passes should in no way affect the student activity allotments which are at present based on the regular tuition.

Campus News In Brief

The International Relations Club will hold a Polish night at the Polish Falcon Club, 634 Main Street, Wednesday, January 12, at 7:30 p.m., as the first of a series of programs with the various nationalities in Bridgeport. The program will include a dinner in Polish style, Polish music, and high school dancing in native costume.

Gabriel Kasprzycki, former sheriff of New Haven county, speaking on phases of Polish culture, will be one of the prominent local Polish residents who will participate in the discussion and get-acquainted hour plan for the IRC and the Polish group. Anthony Pellegrino is chairman of arrangements for the program.

The music department presented a concert by the Bridgeport Symphony, Luigi Capucci conducting, at Fones Lecture Hall, Wednesday, at 8 p.m. as the second in its series of regular monthly musical programs. The concert was co-sponsored by the American Federation of Musicians Recording Fund.

Starting Monday, WNAB's Sports Roundup, heard every weekday night at 6 p.m., will be aired by Philip Peterson, who will assume the duties of Joe Barber during the latter's leave of absence because of illness. Phil has done work in this field for many years having been sports director of WHA, Madison, Wisconsin, and sports caster for WHFC, Cicero, Illinois. While in the mid-west Phil also formed and managed the Columbian's 1946 Champions of Chicago's Industrial Basketball league.

The cooperation of student leaders is urgently enlisted in keeping bulletin boards neat and orderly. Students are especially urged to keep the size of posters down and to utilize particular areas of the boards designated for posting notices of group meetings.

Questions pertaining to the bulletin boards in the Main Academic building will be answered by Virginia Forsberg in Dr. Becker's office, in Fones Hall by Dean Bigsbee's secretary, and in Loyola Hall by Mr. Petitjean's secretary.

The student chapter of the Society for the Advancement of Management will give a testimonial to its faculty advisor, Kenneth Hampson, professor of business, who is returning to private industry at the close of this semester.

The affair will be held at the Fairway Restaurant on the night of Jan. 27. Tickets, at two dollars per person, may be obtained from the evening office or from any SAM officer.

Miss Peggy Fitzgerald, Junior Powers model, who has done both radio and television work was the second speaker at the "Court of Venus" series of lectures sponsored by Theta Epsilon sorority, Monday night in the Bishop Hall Lounge. Miss Fitzgerald is the sister of Miss Patricia Vance, who addressed the university's advertising classes recently, and the daughter of Mr. William Fitzgerald, instructor in advertising. Miss Fitzgerald spoke on correct walking, posture and clothes.

The speaker, a student at Columbia University's school of drama, has appeared as vocalist with Barry Wood on his show "Places Please," and with Bob Emery's television show, "Small Fry."

The Reading Laboratory moved into its own building last week, the former Goodsell House at 111 Myrtle Avenue renamed Easton Hall. The laboratory, consisting of seven classrooms, a psychology laboratory, a dark room and laboratory, a lounge, and administrative offices occupies the entire three floors of the building.

Reserve books which are signed for at the Circulation desk on the blue reserve cards are to be used only in the library reading room unless the person at the desk gives permission to take those books from the room. Such permission will be refused in cases where the faculty member who has requested that the book be placed on reserve also requests that the book be kept in the library. A fine of $1.00 will be imposed on students who take reserve books from the library without permission.

The ASAS, the only national Shmoo Society with national headquarters on the UB campus will hold an organizational meeting of the University chapter in the Fones Lecture Hall, the second week in February. A movie introducing the World Student Service Fund to the UB campus, guest speakers, entertainment, and refreshments are being planned for this first university meeting. The society is at present working on a plan for unifying all campus charity fund raising into one annual drive.

Plans are being made by members of the Ski Club to incorporate that club and such other ones as the Hiking and Horseback Riding Clubs into an Outing Club. Through this larger organization they will be able to conduct year round activities for the benefit and enjoyment of all members.

Drs. Joseph Schafer and Ralph Pickett of the University's History department attended a meeting of the American Historical Association in Washington, D.C., on December 27 and 28.

Pres. James H. Halsey will be a guest speaker at the Newman Club Social at the Sacred Heart church hall, January 18.

"Your Advertising Future" was the subject of a talk by Otto Kleppner, president of the Kleppner Company, New York advertising agency, at a meeting of advertising students and others interested at the Little Theatre last Friday.

Mr. Kleppner, author of "Advertising Procedure," the textbook now in use at the University has been in the advertising business over thirty years. He is a leading authority on copy-right laws and slogans and was very active in the recent war bond drive and "save the fat" campaign.

Dunlap to Teach

Mr. Wendell Kellog in the Public Relations Office and Mr. Harry Kendall in the Evening Office, will have to be approved by the instructor in advance. Mr. Dunlap cannot be contacted during the day, but will be available for consultation at WLIZ, 114 State Street, January 12 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Cringer's Account

By SIBBIE HATCH

On The Ski Club's Trip to New Hampshire Off to New Hampshire with skiing in mind
Went twenty-five kids—And what did they find?
No "schticky schnoe"—But we decided to stay.
The best we could do was to wait and to pray.
We entered the Hatch home, 'twas zero—ye gads!
If only we could have brought some heating pads.
To the shed we went to get us some wood,
And carried as much as we possibly could.
As we sat there toasting, we thought of how nice
"As in chopping and sitting, you get warm twice."
Both fellas and gals made the trek to the hill;
They sang and they laughed and "worked with a will".
Huge logs they lugged all the way from the hill
For "city slickers" 'twas quite a thrill.
The second day—and still no snow.
Which left us feeling mighty low,
But Ski Club members were brave and bold.
(We had to be, to stand the cold!)
At the arrival of Tony who brought the meat,
We decided to stay, mainly to eat.
If you want some proof as to our nutrition,
Just view our frames in their condition.
Our thanks to Ed Woerner for the "bestest" food.
It sure put us all in an excellent mood.
That eighteen pounds of beef made a hit.
'Twas done to a turn, we ate every bit.
Warren and Lois turned out six lovely pies.
But after the roast beef, they were greeted with sighs.
We found a patch of snow here and there;
The going was rough and the ground it was bare.
We went to Mt. Cramore to find more snow.
(It must have been perfect—a year ago!)
We feel, we arose—no need to shake snow.
Instead we had mud and a nice rosy glow.
The skating was super — four inches of ice,
But most of the movies the crowd had seen twice.
The "softies" stayed in to play poker and eat;
Others waxed skis, not admitting defeat.
The restless ones went bowling at night,
But none of the scores soared up out of sight?
De "Schticky Schnoe Band" kept life in the groove,
Some music was hot and the rest pretty smooth.
Syb's brother, John, tooted most of the time
While Sherry's "uke" played the chords for the rhyme—
Our Norm and our Russ, the "bazooka" they blew

Registration for Evening Students

Registration for present evening students took place from Jan. 10 to 13. This enabled students who were planning to continue in the Spring semester to register in advance of the regular registration period, permitting more effective assistance by advisers and faculty members in the planning of programs. Furthermore, students were able to register without the delay and inconveniences incurred during the regular registration period.

Prospective Evening Students
Registration for prospective evening students for the Spring semester will take place from Jan. 31 to Feb. 4 from 7:00 to 9:00 P.M. at Fones Hall, 400 Park Place. All students must be properly registered prior to the beginning of classes on Monday, February 7.

Attention: Prospective Veterans
The Evening Division has also issued an important notice to all veterans who plan to enroll in the Evening College.

Prospective students would do well to contact the educational and vocational division

While over the keys Sherry's fingers flew.
What a system we had for tending the fires!

No one was excused, "you couldn't pull wires."
Each person was given an hour of this duty.

Those all-night watches were hard on the beauty.

Mrs. Hatch, our hostess, kept the vigilance too;

She talked New Hampshire the whole night through,

For Warren, a true "Daniel Boone" at heart

A talk on the "wilds" was sure to start.

The climax came on New Year's Eve—

All but fourteen had had to leave.

A square-dance we crashed at George's Mills,

"De Schticky Schnoe Band" could be heard o'er the hills.

The chief of police was enthused While the on-looking crowd was quite amused.

The gals with corn cob pipes lit-up Made onlookers turn and then sit-up.

Since twelve o'clock was near at hand,

And 'though we were in great demand,

We left the barn for our own celebration

Bigger by far than "The Birth of a Nation".

A week had gone by, at ten dollars a head,

Believe it or not, we stayed out of the red.

To Mother Hatch, a wrist watch, as thanks;

To help her keep time with our future pranks.

UB, FAIRFIELD MEET JAN. 26

KBR ON TOP IN FRAT LEAGUE

UB's intramural winter sports program has swung into full stride following the two week holiday. Early basketball results place Kappa Beta Rho and Waldemere Hall at the top of the Fraternity and Dormitory Leagues respectively, each quintet boasting a 2-0 record. The remaining 18 clubs are bunched closely behind.

Most impressive team to appear thus far is KBR. Led by Ernie Boros who hit a 8-0-16 total, KBR rolled to an easy 42-19 triumph over the Schemers. Sigma Phi Alpha gained a tie for second spot in the standings by edging out Delta Epsilon Beta, 27-27, in the only other frat contest scheduled the week prior to vacation.

Waldemere also notched its second victory the same week when they swamped West Hall 22-10. The Stratford Comets nipped the Norwalk Hot Rods 30-26 in the other half of the dorm twin-bill. E. Ryan and W. Doyle sparked the Comets with 12 and 10 points respectively.

Swimmers Beat Brooklyn Poly

Currently riding the peak of two straight wins against tough Manhattan college, 39-36, the Purple and White mermen trounced a highly touted Brooklyn Polytechnic team 48-28, Dec. 11, at the Y.M.C.A. pool. The game with Yale, Jan. 5, was cancelled.

Coach Tamashunas's charges took the opening event when their relay team of Buttleman, Noyes, and Webb covered the 300-yard distance in 3:39.5 to win easily by seven strokes. Pappas scored his first win the second event when he beat Brooklyn's Tucker by two strokes in the 220-yard freestyle. The winning time was 2:21.2.

Tony Lombard nipped teammate Hajna by one stroke in the third race, the 50-yard freestyle. Peterson of Brooklyn finished third to the winner who was timed in :26.5. Bridgeport's DeRocco defeated a pair of Brooklyn divers to give his team their fourth straight first-place.

Lombard Wins Again

The fifth event gave Lombard his second win of the meet when the freestyle ace swam 100 yards in 1:01 to lick his teammate Webb. Pappas also gained his second victory when he took the sixth race, the 200-yard breaststroke in 2:41.7.

Thomas of Brooklyn finally snapped the local's streak of wins, when he triumphed in the 150-yard backstroke of the seventh race. He swam the distance in 2:07.5 to nip Bridgeport's Hajna and Brooklyn's Morten. However, in the 440-yard freestyle eighth race, Buttleman returned the Tamashunasmen to winning ways when he beat Lavson of Brooklyn and UB's Noyes. The winner's time was 6:13. Brooklyn had the dubious honor of capturing the final race on the card when their relay team of Tucker, Peterson, Tupper, and Lavson covered the 400 yards in 4:16 to give Brooklyn their second win of the meet.

In My Opinion

by Clint Hoysradt

There is more to the recent "resignation" of three of our already depleted basketball squad that meets the eye. It looks like the sprinkle preceding a storm. Things just don't seem to be meshing too well. This is a subtle reminder to those who can do something about it, to at least give a darn. The basketball team now has about 15 men who can play basketball, and five of these are not good enough to play varsity. With the remaining ten players, Coach Glines has to play a 27 game schedule. This is just seven games short of the 35 played by Bowling Green in 1947, when they played more games than any other team in the country.

Attention Professors

The Purple and White will play eight games in 11 days. This grueling schedule is between Jan. 12 and Jan. 28, or during the week of preparing for final examinations. Players don't ask for special privileges but don't you feel sorry for them? History asks us to feel sorry for Lincoln who studied by fire-place light, but have any of you ever studied on a bus with no shock absorbers with some fellow's foot in your face?

Did you know that...

Chet Gladchuk led his high school varsity basketball team two years as captain.... Fred Basquin, up-and-coming hook-shot forward, has the knee cartilage in both knees removed.... a certain UB basketball forward missed eight foul shots in succession for a new school record... Cy Daly once thought basketball a "sissy" game until his mother, who is an ardent and intelligent fan, forced him to practice at the Y.M.C.A. Mrs. Elsie Daly, Commander Daly, and Cy's grandmother, have missed but two of

Frats Hold Xmas Parties Kids Feted

Members of Theta Sigma Fraternity entertained 50 children of the Crippled Children's Workshop during the vacation at a Christmas party. Besides the presentation of gifts by Santa Claus, in the person of Stuart Baker, there were refreshments of cake, cookies, and ice cream.

Members who took active part in the party were Bob Heath, Bob Donaldson, Jack Brewster, Ray Clarke, Clint Hoysradt, Steve Carroll, Reigh Carpenter, Jimmie Dugos, and Howie Moran. Cookies and cake were donated by Gerry Wilkins and Kay De Witt.

Those witnessing the occasion will never forget the grace displayed by Santa Claus when he tripped and fell down a flight of stairs. This happened directly after an elaborate introduction and a merry "Ho-Ho." Santa Baker said he will wear the pillow on the other side next time.

Sorority Also Active

"Theta Epsilon Sorority was also busy during the Christmas vacation", it was announced by Jacqueline Keefe, president. "Baskets of food were brought to the wards at Hillside Home and toys were delivered to the Margaret Ford cottage."

Delta Epsilon Beta Fraternity held a Christmas party for underprivileged children at the Hall Home, on Myrtle Ave. and Park Place on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 22. Gifts, candy, soda and ice cream were distributed among the children by Santa Claus, Charles McMonigle. All the members of the fraternity participated, it was announced by Anthony Guglielmi, president.

Last, but not least, was the Christmas Party given by Beta Gamma Sorority headed by Theresa Brannelly. The children of the Main Street Day Nursery were given presents, candy, ice cream and cookies by Santa Stu Baker of Theta Sigma. Girls participating were Kay DeWitt, chairman, Phyllis Cummings, June Pettigrew, Scottie MacBride, Arlene Kaplan, Sandra Wittenberg, Wilma Jeanne Bryant, Ann Jacobs, and Thora Carr.

Teams Launch Cage Rivalry

UB's basketball squad will meet Fairfield University Jan. 26 in the State Armory for what is expected to be the beginning of a new rivalry in Purple and White cage history. Originally scheduled for Jan. 19, the game was postponed and now will enable the students to take their minds away from academic stress during exam week and enjoy one of the most talked-about games of the season.

Fairfield Coach Joe Dunn will floor a fine squad, which has a trifle better record than UB. But when Fairfield's opponents are compared with the teams UB has played, the scores are about even. The only team played by both UB and Fairfield to-date has been the St. Anselm's Hawks, of Manchester, N. H. The Hawks were victors in both contests, defeating UB 76-55 and trouncing Fairfield on their home court 83-53. Vin Martley, the Hawks' 5'2" ace playmaker and high scorer, starred in the Fairfield game but did not play against UB because of a broken thumb.

Hillyer Here

Friday night, Coach Glines' charges will meet Phil Clark's Hillyer five. Clark has no returning stars from last year's team, having lost Sack and Newman, via the transfer route. Fairfield defeated Hillyer earlier in the season as well as Frank Reilly's Flying Dutchmen. Hofstra gave Hillyer a 20 point shellacking.

The UB team takes to the road Saturday evening to meet Marty O'Malley's team at Becker College, Worcester, Mass. The Massachusetts Knights have a young, but well drilled squad and have four returning letter men on this year's team. Last year, the Knights took in two such impressive squads as Boston College and Assumption. The Purple and White will have to watch men like Keith S. Brigan, 6' forward, and Baisso Spizzuocuo, 6' Argentine guard, two high-scoring returning lettermen.

The UB basketball team has a tough schedule to play and they appreciate good attendance. Good attendance plus a cheering crowd has won many a close ball game.
